

The History of the School

The emblem of Manyo Junior High School was designed in the image of the infinite possibilities and directional character of the youth.

May, 1947	The predecessor of Ajimano Junior High School was founded.
November, 1954	The new school building of Ajimano Junior High School was completed in Ikeizumi-cho. The school song was established.
April, 1959	Ajimano Junior High School changed its name to Takefu Dai-yon Junior High School.
October, 1990	The extension of the school district of Takefu Dai-yon Junior High School to the three districts (Ajimano, Kitahino, Kitashinjo) was decided.
March, 1992	The construction site for the new school building was decided.
August, 1994	The new gym was completed.
November, 1994	The preparatory committee for opening the new school was inaugurated.
March, 1996	The new school building and the playground were completed.
April, 1996	The completion and opening ceremonies of Manyo Junior High School were held. The entrance ceremony was held.
April, 1997	The school received a commission of the educational research. The theme: "Making the school distinctive"
April, 1998	The school was designated as a research school by the Ministry of Education and the City Board of Education. The theme (1998-1999): "To foster students who have power of execution, nurturing rich spirits in the community."
October, 1999	The meeting for the educational research was held. The theme (1998-1999): "To foster students who have power of execution, nurturing rich spirits in the community."
April, 2002	The school was designated by Takefu City as a pilot school for social welfare.
April, 2003	The school was designated as a model school for promoting good traffic manners.(2003-2004) The school was designated as a research advancement school by the National Educational Policy Research Institute.(2003-2004) "The project of comprehensive promotion relating to ingenuity and improvement of evaluation" The theme: "To make efforts to improve the measures of evaluation, fostering good learning."
April, 2004	The school was designated as a model school for promoting good traffic manners.
November, 2004	The meeting for the educational research was held. "School Lunch System" started.
November, 2005	The school celebrated the 10 th Anniversary.
April, 2006	The school was designated as a promotion school of collaboration with elementary schools. The school was designated as a pilot school of school evaluation.
April, 2008	The school was designated as a promotion school of collaboration with elementary schools. (2008-2010)